courtship belong to the lady. She is under no obligation to return anything except an engagement ring. And then — only if SHE breaks the engagement.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 23 and engaged to a very fine man. His mother has invited me to spend Thanksgiving in her home. I'm looking forward to it with great pleasure.

I am unsure about how much housework I should do when I get there. I know she has a large home but I don't know if she has any servants. Should I offer to help clear the table if there is no maid?

Do I make my own bed? Should I offer to help cook? Please give me some pointers, Ann. I am eager to do the right thing but I don't know what is proper. Thank you. — AVID READER

Dear Reader: A houseguest always picks up after herself and attempts to make her own bed, servants or no.

If there are servants you would not, of course, help clear the table or offer to cook. If there are no servants, ask your future mother-in-law what you can do to help. The most common mistake is to insist on "helping" when the hostess would prefer that you not.

Does almost everyone get a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request $2 in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (c) 1962, Field Enterprises, Inc.

Prizes will be awarded for outstanding costumes, but Mr. Kerby has announced that costumes are not obligatory. An orchestra will provide music for dancing. A buffet dinner will be served continuously.

Reservations for the gala Halloween party will not be necessary, but tickets for the event may be obtained in advance by contacting any of the committee members.

Reports from the conference at Pacific Palisades will be given by Mrs. N. G. Betz of Lomita and Mrs. H. G. Cassell of Torrance. Theme for the day, "Deepen the Channels to Peace," will be discussed by a panel composed of Mmes. Max Schantz, Martin DeVries, N. G. Betz and J. W. Cleveland.

At this meeting, sewing projects for women and children of South East Asia will be presented by local councils of United Church Women as an expression of Christian concern and faith for peace.
